

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING OUR WIDGET

What's a Widget?

The Too Smart To Start Underage Drinking Prevention widget is an online application that displays our newsroom content directly on your Web page. You may add it to personalized homepages, blogs, and other sites. Once you've added the widget to your Web page, no technical maintenance is needed—content news items are updated automatically. Adding this widget to your page means that you will have up-to-date, credible news on underage drinking prevention in your favorite spaces!

How To Use a Widget

This underage drinking prevention widget provides a choice of two designs with links to the Too Smart To Start (TSTS) newsroom. Simply cut and paste the HTML code for your preferred design into your Web page. Because our widgets are a new product, we would really appreciate your feedback.

About This Section

The In the News section of this Web site supports these objectives of the Too Smart To Start initiative of the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS):

- Increase the number of conversations between parents and caregivers and their underage children about the harms of underage alcohol use.
- Increase the percentage of underage youth and their parents and caregivers who see underage alcohol use as harmful.
- Increase public disapproval of underage alcohol use.

Headlines relating to underage drinking prevention that appear here are generally linked to information published in print and online by key SAMHSA partners, mainstream media, government agencies, and other reputable sources.

Information Disclaimer

The news items identified by this Web site (<http://www.toosmartostart.samhsa.gov>) are selected as general information for the public and those interested in underage drinking prevention. The news content does not necessarily reflect the views and policies of CSAP, SAMHSA, or HHS.

